

ISABEL JASCHEK CORVALÁN

She holds degrees in French Philology and Sociology from the University of Human Sciences of Strasbourg, France, and has worked at the University of Salamanca as a Language Expert since 1987.

Teacher of French from 1979 to 2012 and Head of the Language Centre of the University of Salamanca from 1987 to the present.

Secretary of the Language Policy Board of the University of Salamanca since its creation in 2010 and one of the promoters of the University of Salamanca's Plan for Language Internationalization (IngDocUSAL).

Member of the Language Policy Board for French of the Spanish National Conference of University Rectors (CRUE) since its creation in 2013.

Founding member of ACLES (University Language Centres Association) and Secretary of that Association from 2000 to 2004. She is currently a consulting member of ACLES' Executive Committee.

Coordinator of the ACLES' Work Group on Assessment (Universities of Salamanca, Polytechnic of Valencia and Autonomous of Barcelona) which established the accreditation model for language levels using CertAcles examinations (2008 and 2009).

Currently a Member of ACLES' Accreditation Commission and in charge of zone 04 (Castile & Leon, Galicia, Cantabria and Asturias) for language accreditation through examinations of competence since 2011.

Coordinator of the Work Group on Quality in Language Centres pertaining to ACLES and co-author of the Self-Assessment Questionnaire for University Language Centres (2012).